Independent Auditor's Report

To the members of B.C. Amateur Athletics Association

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of B.C. Amateur Athletics Association (the Association), which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2024, the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Association as at March 31, 2024, and its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Association in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of Matter - Restated Comparative Information

Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to Note 2 to the financial statements which describes that certain comparative information presented for the year ended March 31, 2023 has been restated.

Unaudited Information

We have not audited, reviewed or otherwise attempted to verify the accuracy or completeness of the information included in Schedules 1 - 3 of the Association's financial statements.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Association's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Association or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Association's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Association's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Association's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Association to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements As required by the Societies Act (British Columbia), we report that, in our opinion, the accounting principles in Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

1. Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

- Use of Estimates The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from management's best estimates as additional information becomes available in the future.
- Revenue Recognition The Association follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions.

Revenue received are of three types: a) grants and incomes which relate to the fiscal period; b) membership fees which are collected throughout the year; and c) grants and incomes that relate to specific events or projects. Those revenues received or earned that relate to the fiscal period are recognized when received or earned. Those revenues received or earned that relate to membership fees are recognized when received or earned. Those revenues received or earned that relate to specific events or projects are deferred until the event or project is complete. Revenues are recognized when earned and are recorded when they are deemed collectible.

- Cash and Cash Equivalents Cash and cash equivalents consist of bank balances and investments in money market instruments with maturities of three months or less.
- Inventory Inventory is stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined on the first-in, first-out basis. Included in inventory are items that are held for resale and those that are consumable and used as prizes and uniforms.
- Government Assistance The Association makes periodic applications for financial assistance under government incentive programs. Government assistance received during the year is included in the determination of net income for the year.
- Contributed Materials Contributed materials which are used in the normal course of operations and would otherwise have been purchased are recorded at their fair value at the date of contribution if fair value can be reasonably estimated.
- Contributed Services Volunteers contribute many hours per year to assist the Association in carrying out its activities. Due to the difficulty of determining their fair value, contributed services are not recognized in the financial statements.
